Domestic Violence Awareness Month

RECOGNIZE power-based violence and promote RESILIENCE

Domestic Violence in our Community

1 in 4 women and 1 in 9 men experience severe intimate partner physical violence, sexual abuse, and/or stalking. Approximately 1 in 7 experience Childhood Domestic Violence (CDV).

Those who experience CDV are 6x more likely to commit suicide, 50% more likely to abuse drugs or alcohol, and 74% more likely to commit a violent crime.

What is Resiliency? [Brain icon]

Resilience is a person's ability to adapt successfully to acute stress, trauma, and adversity. Neuroplasticity is the brain's ability to change throughout an individual's life. Studies show that the brain is malleable, "plastic", and can develop a level of resilience that helps us be healthy and productive.

When we implement stress-reducing strategies and foster stable, supportive relationships for those effected by domestic violence, it can help alter their brain structure and function, increasing their resiliency to overcome adversity.

Although allergies are quite common, it is important to seek treatment to reduce symptoms and avoid potentially dangerous breathing problems. Sometimes children will intertwine an allergy or the allergy will go away and then come back later in life. Asthma for asthma: People with asthma are more likely to develop an allergy. Get other allergies: People who have an allergy to something are more likely to develop other allergies. A family history of asthma or allergies: When a family member has an allergy or astina, an individual’s risk for developing allergic conditions increases. This approach uses small amounts of the allergen to â™ trainâ™ your immune system to recognize it as non-harmful. Getting Batsmen Out is critical for the fielding team to minimize the number of runs scored by the team to the bat. Sometimes, it means avoiding a particular substance, while in other cases, patients may treat allergies by using over-the-counter medications; medicines prescribed by a doctor; or allergic strokes. Allergic dermatitis: This type of allergy occurs when the body has mistakenly identified certain applied substances or come into contact with the skin. This condition requires emergency medical attention and can cause the following symptoms: Rashswollen facial skin and AirwayNoisy breathing shortness of rurati, weak pulsenausea and vomitendneddednessloss of untreated consciousness, anaphylaxis can lead to death. If the ball bounces before it goes outside the confines of the game, the batting team gains four tracks. The bowlers did not allow to bowl two consecutive overs. The goal of the field team is to limit the number of executions the other team gets.
